NO CONSIDERATION OF ADVERSE IMPACTS OF INVESTMENT ADVICE ON SUSTAINABILITY FACTORS

Financial adviser: Obsido Oy (2009249-1)

Obsido Oy (2009249-1) does not consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors when providing investment advice.

The decision is based on the nature of Obsido's investment strategy and advisory model. Obsido Oy provides its clients with non-independent investment advice. The investment instruments used in the investment advice do not consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors in their investment decisions, which is why adverse impacts are not considered in the investment advice provided. However, before giving investment advice, the client's potential sustainability preferences are discussed with the client. As part of this discussion, the client's potential preferences regarding adverse impacts are also identified.
